

There is a story to be told
Behind every knot, every link
Every reflective rethink

There is beauty..
In simplicity. In a complex past
In the delicate hues. In the distinct contrast
In the little things. In the bigger things
In the symmetry. In the asymmetry
In the balanced and the unbalanced
In the edges and the curves
In the bold and the reserved
In the veiled and unveiled
In the strength and vulnerabilities
In the compact and the abstract
In the conceptual and the tangible

There is beauty..
In freedom. In the random
In an answer of wisdom
In a question of the system
In the pursuit of perfection
In the art of imperfection
In the whys and the why nots
In the classic. In the eccentric
In holding back. In letting go
In being him or her
In being him and her
In being you
